School Board Asks Increase in Millage

Hope School District's Board today submitted its 1963-64 school budget which included a proposal for a five mill increase in taxes to 46 Mills.

Earlier this year the Board had sought to increase school funds through an assessment revision program but the proposal failed when Assessor Carter Sutton announced he would not cooperate with the schools.

The Board issued the following statement:

To all citizens of Hope School District 1-A:

We are again asking for your support for a program of improvement in your schools. We would not ask your support in this project, if we did not consider it an emergency.

You will notice in our Legal Publication today, that we are asking for a 5 mill increase to finance a construction program for our Negro schools and other improvements and equipment, and also to refund the old 1940 Bond Issue, which has a balance of $67,000. The total amount of the Bond Issue will be $250,000 broken down as follows: $183,000 for improvements and new construction, $67,000 for refunding 1940 Bond Issue, at the same rate of interest (3 1/2 %). This will take 3 1/2 mills, the other 1 1/2 mills would be used for the classroom teachers and general operation.

What Facilities Will The Bond Issue Provide?

Hopewell School Site: Number of pupils 341. Provide four classrooms and toilet facilities, auditorium and lunchroom combination. This will replace three temporary classrooms and provide one additional room. There is no auditorium that will house the pupils.

Yerger School Site: Provide Home Economics Department for grades 9-12, Science Department 9-12 grades, two elementary classrooms and office space. This will give two additional classrooms and replace two temporary classrooms and additional toilet facilities. Approximately 700 students are housed in facilities on this site.

Why Is This Program Needed? To relieve the congestion in our classroom facilities in Negro Schools. To replace temporary classroom facilities. To protect the North Central Accreditation of our Negro Schools.

What Will Be 5 Mill Increase Cost?

If the Assessed Valuation of your property is:

$100 Cost $.50 per year
$200 Cost $1.00 per year
$500 Cost $2.50 per year
$1000 Cost $5.00 per year

This proposed program will strengthen your schools and cost so little for the investment that you have in the education of the youth of this school district.

We invite you to take a tour of our facilities before you make a decision for, or against, this proposal.

Negro Plans to Enroll Today at Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals issued a sweeping restraining order today prohibiting Gov. Ross Barnett and a large number of county, city and other state officials from interfering with the registration of Negro James H. Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In addition to Barnett, the order names Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson, State Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong, and district attorneys police chiefs and sheriffs which the court described as representative of their authority throughout the entire state.

The order was signed by three judges of the Appellate Court. They set a hearing for Friday in New Orleans.

The order was issued on the request of the U.S. Justice Department, which only Monday pressed a contempt charge against university officials, leading to the promise by officials that Meredith would be registered.

The promise of the officials, however, came in the face of the countermove at Jackson by Barnett, who has sworn he will go to jail rather than see Meredith enrolled at Ole Miss.

The Appeals Court Monday gave the State College Board until 4 p.m., Central Standard time, to Continued on Page Two

Local Option Liquor Vote Ruled Illegal

The question of local option liquor vote in Bois d' Arc Township will not be placed on the November ballot, W. S. Atkins, Chairman of Hempstead Board of Election Commissioners, said today.

His announcement followed an opinion from the Attorney General of Arkansas who ruled that such an election is not valid. Leo Robins, Hope, filed a petition in the County Court on Sept. 5 calling for an election. Hempstead County has been legally dry since 1945.

Attorney General Frank Holt's opinion follows:

"Dear Mr. Atkins:

"I acknowledge receipt of your recent letter requesting an opinion on a matter concerning the local option laws. You state that Hempstead County has voted against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor, but now a petition of the required number of qualified voters in Bois d' Arc Township has been filed with the County Clerk to have the question of legalizing the sale of intoxicating liquor in that township submitted to the voters of the township at the general election to be held in November, 1962.

"You further state that the County Clerk has certified the petition to the Hempstead County Continued on Page Two

Leiblong to Bring Vote Drive Here

The Hempstead County Republican Club has announced that Warren Leiblong the GOP candidate for Congressman of the 4th District will come to Hope for the day on Saturday, Sept. 29. A breakfast will be held at the Barlow at 7:45 a.m. to start the day. The price of admission will be only $1.00 and the affair will be over at 8:45 a.m. Mr. Leiblong will then campaign in the county until about noon at which time Republican women will hold a luncheon for him.

The afternoon and early evening will be spent at the Republican booth at the Third District Livestock Show. Tickets are available from Earl Martin, T. O. Porter, J. A. Davis, Lloyd Guerin, Margaret Harris, Hendrix Spragins and several GOP women, or you may buy them at the Fair booth.

Defense in Estes Trial Asks Delay

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — The defense in the Billie Sol Estes state criminal trial asked today for a postponement. Lawyers for the deposed former Texas financial giant said people have been too well informed about Estes for him to receive an impartial trial.

The defense submitted a 22-page motion for delay.

Estes appeared before the court Monday on state charges of fraud, swindling and embezzlement and his lawyers immediately offered a series of motions.

Judge Otis T. Dunagan received the motion for delay Monday night for study before its formal presentation today.

The defense also argued that 29 key defense witnesses are missing.

Earl Downs, Counselor in Hope High School, will preside over one of the sessions during the annual Arkansas School Counselors Conference to be held at the Mather Lodge, Petit Jean State Park, Sept. 27-29. Mr. Downs will discuss "New Counselor Orientation," says Hugh Lovett, director of guidance services, state education department.

Mary Ann Bealy and Jane Griff, co-editors of the 1963 "Bobcat" Janet Terrell, business manager, John Whitten, photographer and Mrs. McDowell Turner, sponsor, went to the Hurley Printing Co. workshop in Camden Friday and Saturday. Yearbook staff members from six states were present.

Mary Ann appeared on a luncheon program and gave a parody on Hamlet's soliloquy, using the yearbook theme. Written by Mrs. B. B. McPherson, it made a big hit.

Registration for high school courses for adults was held last night but very few turned out. Courses offered were reading, writing, spelling etc. The school has the instructors and materials but without more persons desiring to improve themselves, this program will be abandoned.

There were only enough present to start one rapid reading class, scheduled to begin Oct. 1. If enough interest is shown a class in English and math will be set up.

The Star newsboys had a fine time on the midway last night as guests of Almo Exposition Shows. Everything was on the house with free rides for the paperboys. A former Kansas City Star carrier, Jack Ruback, owner, played host to the boys.

Monday a local store did a landslide business on the sale of peashooters. Only one thing wrong with them was that they were bought to shoot the animals in the parade. Maybe the boys don't realize how many people could be killed or crippled if an excited horse decided to run away in the crowd downtown yesterday. My sons have a date with the razorstrap tonight, but they realize how serious it could be tomorrow.

Members of the Kiddie Korner Kindergarten had a ball this morning when they took a ride in the L&A yards. They were accompanied by their instructor Mrs. Charles Butler.

Biggest First Night at Show in Recent Years

Thousands of folks lined the streets of Hope yesterday afternoon to view a huge parade which formally opened the 18th showing of the Third District Livestock Show. The parade was a big success.

An estimated 800 persons attended the talent show last night in the Coliseum and Livestock Show officials estimated about 3,000 persons were on the fair grounds overall. Needless to say the Almo Exposition Shows on the midway did a booming business. Manager Ned Ray Purdie said it was the biggest first night in recent years.

The Quarterhorse Show got underway this morning and will continue throughout the day with the finale tonight at 8 o'clock in the Coliseum. This show is free to the public. By 9:30 a.m. Tuesday 80 quarterhorses had been entered and they were still coming in, thus very keen competition is assured. Wednesday features the finals in the Coliseum that night. This show is also free to the public.

Thursday begins the western phase of the show with a parade at 4 p.m. and the Crenshaw Rodeo Co. of Oklahoma will stage a rodeo in the Coliseum Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Winners in competition last night were:

FFA — Billy Pace and his Pace-makers of Magnolia;
4-H — Fredericka Silvey, Bodcaw;

Specialty Division — Delana Bonds, Blevins;

Winners in the parade are:

Board of Election Commissioners. Thus, the question presented is whether it is proper for a township to vote on the issue of legalizing the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor in a county that has previously voted dry or against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

"Pursuant to pertinent sections of Amendment 7, Constitution of Arkansas, the County Clerk is required to examine this petition and to determine only the sufficiency of the signatures on the petition. If the signatures are adequate, then the County Clerk must certify the petition to the County Board of Election Commissioners. This is the extent of his duty and responsibility. The County Board shall then decide the issue of placing the petition on the ballot."

"The same question has been presented to and determined by the Supreme Court of Arkansas. Carter v. Reamey, 232 Ark. 211, 335 S.W. 2d 288, Denison, County Judge, v. Riddle, 210 Ark. 1029, 190 S.W. 2d 302. The Court held in both cases that where a county had voted dry, a subdivision of the county was prohibited from holding a wet-dry election relying upon the language of Initiated Act Number 1 of 1942 codified as S. 42-801 et seq. Ark. Stats. (1947)."

"In view of the authority noted above, it is the opinion of this office that the voters of Bois D'Arc Township cannot validly consider the question of legalizing the sale of intoxicating liquor and the County Board of Election Commissioners should not place the question on the ballot."

day to let Meredith enroll.

Meredith planned to register in Jackson, where the board normally sits, rather than the campus at Oxford. This was part of the board's agreement with the court. But even while courtroom agreements were being made in New Orleans, Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi was making counter moves in Jackson.

The 64 year old governor, who promised to go to jail rather than see Meredith knock down 114 years of segregation at Ole Miss, took these actions:

1. He obtained a state court order forbidding university officials from enrolling Meredith and forbidding Meredith from enrolling.

2. He issued an executive order directing state police to arrest anyone who tried to arrest or fine a state official in connection with the Meredith case.

The highway patrol announced a 24-hour standby alert as the hearing in New Orleans drew to a close. More than 80 patrol cars were moved into the Oxford area.

Meredith, calm but attentive in the courtroom, seemed not at all sure that the end of the long road was in sight.

"I've been admitted a lot of times before," he told newsmen, referring to three previous federal court orders that so far have not succeeded in putting him in the classes at Ole Miss.

The board issued a statement after the hearing saying that it bowed to the court because it "was apparent that fine and imprisonment in amounts unknown to us would not prevent Meredith's admission."

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal court, which has ordered James H. Meredith, 29, a Negro, admitted to the white University of Mississippi, holds a contempt hearing today for officials accused of ignoring the order.

The full 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was ordered convened for the hearing.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, empowered by the State College Board to act as university registrar in the Meredith case, went to the Oxford campus Thursday and denied him admission.

The Department of Justice said Barnett's action was meaningless and asked contempt citations against the 13-member board and three top administration officers of the university—Chancellor John Davis Williams; Dr. Arthur B. Lewis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; and Robert B. Ellis, the registrar.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize, in a hearing at Meridian, Miss., Friday, ruled that the three school officials had no power in the case because the board had delegated power to Barnett.

The Justice Department earlier had asked the appellate court in New Orleans to cite the State College Board for contempt. After Mize found the school officials innocent, the Justice Department obtained an order from the appellate court to make them parties to the same action involving the school board.

Four Shot in Rioting at St. Louis

By BOB POOS

ST. LOUIS Mo. (AP)—A shotgun blast fired from the darkness early today wounded three St. Louis County police officers who were trying to disperse an unruly excited crowd of some 200 persons in suburban Kinloch. A civilian was wounded.

The crowd was protesting the killing Sunday of a man by a Kinloch policeman.

Flareups of violence have been occurring ever since the shooting in the predominantly Negro community of 8,500. Both the man killed and the policeman were Negroes.

Fires were set Monday night and early today in several vacant buildings, a school and a new home being built by the Kinloch chief of police as the mob got out of hand.

Police questioned more than 70 persons and gave three lie detector tests following the shooting. All were released.

A blaze in the home of Kinloch Chief Roosevelt Hoskins was extinguished before it caused serious damage.

But a five-room frame wing of Dunbar grade school burned out and there was no school today for 1,000 children.

None of the three wounded officers, patrolmen Billy Rushing, 33, Hugh Hodges, 26 and Kenneth Armstrong, 29, was critically injured. Rushing returned to duty. The others remained in County Hospital under observation. All are white.

Kinloch Mayor Clarence Lee said "growing unrest and even hatred" because of the killing of Darnell Dortch, 20, by a Kinloch patrolman, Israel Mason, 74, touched off the violence.

Mason, suspended pending a coroner's investigation, said he was trying to subdue Dortch and his gun went off accidentally. The officer said Dortch had refused to accept a careless driving warrant.

The officers who were wounded had been summoned to aid the seven-man Kinloch force in dispersing a mob that gathered at a drive-in cafe near the Kinloch police station.

At times the mob chanted: "We want Mason!"

ST. LOUIS Mo. (AP)—Three St. Louis County policemen and a civilian were shot and wounded early today as police tried to break up a mob outside the police station at Kinloch, a predominantly Negro suburb.

Patrolmen Kenneth Armstrong, 29 and Hugh Hodges, 26, were taken to county hospital, where attendants said they were in serious condition.

Patrolman William Rushing, 33, and Anthony Williams, 32, the civilian, were treated for superficial shotgun pellet wounds and released.

The shooting occurred as Armstrong, with a police dog on leash, led 50 officers toward the shouting mob. Williams was sitting in a car parked near the mob, estimated by police at 200 to 300 persons.

The mob was shouting, "We want Mason, we want Mason."

They were referring to patrolman Israel Mason, who shot and killed Darnell Dortch, 19, of Kinloch Sunday.

Mason said Dortch resisted when he tried to serve a traffic warrant on the youth charging him with reckless driving. Mason was suspended and County Prosecutor Norman Anderson said he would present the case to the grand jury.

Two shotgun blasts were fired through the front door of the police station Sunday night.

Monday night, the mob began forming outside the police station about 10 p.m. An hour and a half later, Kinloch police called for reinforcements.

Most of that "too much" involves monthly payrolls of over $2.7 million drawn by about 4,500 civilian construction workers and military men.

Missile Site Causes Town to Boom

By RICHARD J. PALMER

MINOT, N.D. (AP)—The roar of heavy machinery is breaking the prairie silence in central North Dakota, and towns of under 2,000 population are bustling with new business.

It's all caused by a $13.3-million missile site—one of 21 around the nation.

This site is for Minuteman nuclear missiles—the one the Air Force tags "firecrackers with a guidance system."

Most of the sites are in the less-populated central part of the country, where the impact on smaller towns is explosive itself.

"It used to be when you saw a stranger on main street, you wondered who he was and what he was doing here. It's not that way anymore," said Mayor Richard Kostenko of Max, N.D., a hamlet of 410 persons.

"It's good—but it'll be short lived, and maybe that's the trouble with it," Kostenko sighed. "There's just too much all at once."

Most of that "too much" involves monthly payrolls of over $2.7 million drawn by about 4,500 civilian construction workers and military men.

On top of this, the Boeing Co., one of the project contractors, is pouring $250,000 a month in local purchases into this normally quiet, agricultural economy.

The money is being used to dig and equip 50 big holes in a "C" shape around Minot Air Force Base, home for part of the Strategic Air Command, which will take over operation of the complex.

Average cost of one missile silo is $385,000. Each silo is designed to be used just once. A launch control center, buried 80 feet in the center of each 10-missile silo cluster, costs an average $70,000.

Criticism comes in many forms. But there's little fear among the North Dakotans of the deadly nuclear-tipped missiles that will hang ever alert for launching in these pasture hideaways about two years from now.

The Site Activation Task Force—SATAF—headed by Col. Thomas S. Jeffrey, 45-year-old space age veteran who recently commanded construction of the Atlas missile site around Spokane, Wash., is staging a mammoth public relations effort.

They hold community meetings and have an open door at all hours for complaints.

Col. John Appel, commanding officer of the arsenal, called the product an "incapacitating chemical agent" and said it would have "temporary physical or psychic effects sufficient to prevent an individual from going about his normal duties."

"There are no permanent after-effects," Appel said. "Recovery occurs in a few hours without medical attention and some cases can be hastened with treatment."

Appel said the agent will be processed and put in containers at the arsenal. A building will be altered to produce the dust safely.

An Army spokesman said the agent is definitely not a nerve gas, but a solid material that can be released in many ways. The incapacitation occurs through breathing the powder particles.

Appel said danger to people in the surrounding community has been eliminated through safety precautions, and none of the incapacitating materials will escape into the air.

The arsenal has won high safety honors among Chemical Corps installations for its methods, Appel said, and some new safety methods are being devised for the new operation.

About 110 men, working in two shifts, will produce the dust.

Self Employed to Get Tax Advantages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed today a compromise bill to grant self-employed persons tax advantages on personal pension funds. The vote was 310.

The measure now goes to the Senate. If it is approved there, however, it still faces uncertainty. There has been speculation President Kennedy may veto it, although sponsors said during House debate today that Treasury estimates of its cost in lost revenues are excessive.

The bill, as redesigned by a Senate House conference committee last week, is estimated to cost the Treasury $115 million a year in revenue and potentially to benefit as many as 7 million self-employed persons such as doctors and lawyers. It could also benefit some 11 million employees of such persons.

The bill would allow deduction tax free. Self-employed persons who employ others would have to provide a pension plan for such employees in order to take advantage of the tax deduction for themselves.

U. S. Dollar Sound Nearly Everyone Says

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Faith in the basic health of the American dollar has been proclaimed from all sides — or almost all sides. And President Kennedy is about to get tariff bargaining powers with which he hopes further to strengthen the dollar.

Looking further ahead, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has promised other nations that when the United States starts running a surplus in its balance of payments, which it hasn't done for quite a few years now, it won't try to take back from them the gold they have been taking from the U.S. Treasury's stocks while this country was running a deficit.

This loss of gold in recent years to nations who have been getting more dollars from us than they have had need to pay back was a prime reason that some foreigners, particularly gold and currency speculators, have been casting doubt on the health of the American dollar.

At the meetings in Washington last week of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, all hands were busy assuring such speculators that their ideas were groundless, and that their speculations would boom.

To most Americans the health of the dollar is largely a matter of how far it will go in maintaining a high standard of living. The cost of living means more to them than international exchange rates, or even the flow of gold between the world's central banks.

But the two factors — the strength of the dollar in the market place at home and its strength in international exchange — react on each other.

Either a runaway rise in the cost of living which is most unlikely at this time, or a flight from the dollar abroad which is just as unlikely, could raise the specter of devaluation—that is a downgrading in the value of the dollar in relation to gold, to other currencies, or to goods and services.

Many Americans woke up to this possibility a couple months ago when a short-lived run on the dollar abroad sent the price of gold soaring.

Now all hands are taking a calmer view. Americans realize that their position in foreign trade is good, with exports topping imports, and that this status can improve if the hopes riding on the freer trade program are realized.

Foreigners have been sharply reminded that the United States won't let its dollar be menaced, that if it should halt foreign aid, either economic or military, it would be running a surplus instead of a deficit.

If other nations share more of this burden of economic and military overseas spending, if world trade expands through agreements by the United States and European Common Market, and, importantly, if the United States keeps its own financial house in order by holding down Treasury deficits and building up its rate of economic growth, the health of the dollar will no longer be questioned.

That is what the money managers were saying in Washington.

Tom make sure of it, they were strengthening defenses not only of the dollar but of other Western currencies. Central banks of the principal financial nations can move quickly now to halt runs on the dollar or other currencies, to protect gold reserves, to discourage speculators.

But basic to the effectiveness of these measures is the economic strength of the United States and other key nations.

Didn't Disturb Cleanup Drive

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's five day army revolt barely disturbed Mayor Alberto Prebisch in his campaign to make Buenos Aires streets and parks the city's cleanest.

While tanks clanked through the boulevards and most civilians took cover, Prebisch's staff plastered the city with posters proclaiming, "Let's clean up Buenos Aires." Wire baskets dotted the downtown area, bearing signs, "Drop it here."

Presenting: the Crisp, New, Custom Look of

CHRYSLER '63

The luxurious Chrysler New Yorker

Raise your eyes and take another long look at this beautiful '63 Chrysler.

How would you describe it? America's most prominent fashion leaders, style-setters, and designers said this about the '63 Chrysler: "A stunning concept in restrained elegance!" "Has the custom look of a town car!" "Beautiful simplicity in line and form!"

Inside you'll find a style revolution in the making: gorgeous patterns; loop-pile carpeting that would grace any living room; wide, comfortable deep-cushioned seats.

Again in '63 you'll find no small-size Chryslers, no jr. editions, to undercut your big-car investment, penalize your pride or reduce your resale value.

All '63 Chryslers are big, beautiful and V-8 powered. All are pleasant price surprises, too. Take a good look at the custom-looking '63 Chrysler... then take a big, beautiful step ahead in style.

Argentine Election May Be Free

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Backed by triumphant army rebels, President Jose Maria Guido set out today to bind the nation's wounds with a hint of amnesty for all and a promise of free elections. Guido went on the radio Sunday night hours after the last resistance crumbled in north Argentina, ending five days of armed forces conflict that shook the country.

Guido himself was thrust into the presidency last March by the military high command that took a beating from rebel forces led by Brig. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania.

Ongania accused the high command of making Guido a virtual prisoner with the aim of leading Argentina into military dictatorship. He and his backers said they wanted to free Guido from military dictate and restore democratic institutions.

Guido switched to the rebel side in the midst of the conflict. While he told the nation he alone would exercise the powers of chief executive, he laid down a policy advocated by the rebels.

"There will be elections of new authorities within the briefest possible time in free polls," Guido declared. "This is the firm purpose of the government."

This echoed a statement by Ongania's forces at Campo de Mayo, the nation's largest garrison, where the army rebellion began last week.

Guido had promised elections by October 1963, with new officials taking office the following May.

In an apparent reference to followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, Guido said all sectors of the population will be free to take part in politics provided they adhere to democratic principles.

While proclaiming themselves anti-Peronists, a rebel communiqué said the problem of the Peronist masses can be solved only by winning them over to democratic

Mrs. Kennedy Starts the Philharmonic

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—At approximately 9:01½ p.m. Jacqueline Kennedy walked into the box and bowed slightly.

At approximately 9:02 p.m. Leonard Bernstein warmed his way through the gentlemen of the Philharmonic Orchestra and poised his baton.

At approximately 9:02½ — one and a half minutes behind schedule—the orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and a brave but unfinished new world of culture was launched.

The new Philharmonic Hall—perhaps the most impressive marble temple of our generation—was beautiful. Beside it—concealed from the richly garbed crowd in the lobby by a hastily constructed plywood fence—where the rubble and construction tools of what will someday be the complex of buildings to be known as the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

Philharmonic Hall—except for the marble pillars—is almost all glass on the outside. On the inside it is marble and gold, acres of gold and brown upholstered seats, all set off by what will someday be an abstract sculpture of Orpheus and Apollo by Richard Lipold, but on opening night consisting of Orpheus and only a bit of Apollo—all suspended and mobile pieces of rectangular gold metal.

Musically, the feature of the evening was the world premiere of "Connotations for Orchestra," which the Philharmonic had commissioned from Copland, the noted American composer.

Only Greene Co. Low on Assessing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Assessment Co-ordination Department said Saturday only one county in the state—Greene—dropped below the legal minimum property assessment level this year.

The law says that counties must assess 20 per cent of the fair market value of property. State turnback funds are to be withheld from counties dropping below 18 per cent.

The department said the Greene County assessment was 17.35 per cent, just under the 17.5 level used by the department to allow for margin of error.

Assessments can be reviewed through the third week in November. The Department said if Greene County adjusts its assessment to the legal minimum by that time no turnback funds will be withheld.

It said Washington, Stone and Randolph counties, in that order, had the highest assessments, slightly over 21 per cent.

Gerber Seeks Nashville Acreage

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Officials of the Gerber Co. have asked for 200 acres of territory in the Nashville area to be put into production of peaches for the firm's baby food plant at Fort Smith.

Farmers in the area are interested in such production, the firm said, and a company official is due to visit the area next month to arrange contracts.

Gerber said its new $10 million plant will also be supplied with peaches from the Forrest City and Clarksville areas.

Discourages Use of Cigarettes

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—About 80 high school students from five Arkansas counties will meet in Conway Wednesday to discuss ways of discouraging cigarette smoking by young persons.

The 10th grade students will hear Dr. Grimsley Graham of Little Rock, a chest surgeon, make the principal address.

The meeting is sponsored by the American Cancer Society. The counties are Cleburne, Conway, Fulkner, Van Buren and White.

processes. When the Peronists won victories in provincial and congressional elections last March, the military high command overthrew President Arturo Frondizi, blaming him for permitting Peronists to resume political activity. They installed Guido and he nullified the election results.

In the five days of fighting involving tanks, artillery and jet fighters, 11 civilian bystanders were killed and 43 wounded. Military losses were put at 3 dead and 12 wounded.

Two military leaders are under arrest—Gen. Juan Carlos Lorigon, former commander in chief, and Gen. Bernardino Labayru, former chief of staff.

Setting out for form a new cabinet, Guido called back Alvaro Alsogaray, the strong man of his government who submitted his resignation along with all other ministers last week to give the president a free hand.

Miss Jeanette Bradshaw

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bradshaw of Hope, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeanette, to David Payton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Imort Peyton of Hope.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 20 in the Guernsey Baptist Church. Rev. Kelly Dickson will officiate at the ceremony.

DOROTHY DIX

She Fears the Worst

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I live in secret dread, fearful of learning the truth.

A few evenings ago a man came to see my husband, but he was out and didn't return until four the next morning. This man asked me if my husband received a phone call from a woman before he left. I said he had. The man then told me that his wife and my husband were out together again, and that he was leaving his wife.

Her first husband also left her because of my husband. And she isn't the only woman.

I've had visits from a girl whose sister was dating my husband, and from a father whose daughter was also seeing him. We've been married 14 years and have two children, 7 and 6. I'm 31, pretty, neat and trim 5 feet 4 and weigh 112 pounds. My husband is 34.

He's broken my heart over and over. I feel like a shell with no feeling or pride and I'm in a constant state of nerves. I've tried to quit twice but he always begs me to come back. I love and need him. We're buying our home and are in deep debt. My church allows divorce but I wouldn't remarry. We are of the same faith but my husband doesn't live it.

Other than his philandering, I enjoy married life save for this—and it's now all consuming—fear that I need a Wassermann test. Could you tell me what, specifically, this is?—No Pride Left

Dear No Pride: A Wassermann test is a way of checking a person's blood serum to determine whether he or she has syphilis. If you're considering such a test, by all means see a doctor—but be sure to tell your husband first.

The mere fact that you feel you need this test may bring him to his senses and stop him from running around with other women.

Even a philandering husband who doesn't seem to care a hang about breaking his wife's heart will think twice about giving her a social disease.

From what you write it's obvious that in spite of the humiliation you have endured you want to save your marriage. The Wassermann test may be the way.

Even if the results prove negative (no infection), the whole procedure can shock your husband into realizing that his outside sexual activity is a danger not only morally to him but physically to you.

Dear Helen: I'm a 17-year-old kid in his senior year at high school. Not much on looks or conversation and only fair to middling in grades, yet every girl in school wants to date me.

My parents kid me about my fatal charm but, believe me, it's no laughing matter.

Sure I like girls, what boy doesn't? There are three who strike me as just about right. The rest leave me cold. Would to heaven I had the same affect on them. My three live about 10 miles apart. I go to see them about twice a week. They're all good friends.

This is another worry. If I date one, will I be hurting the other two? My concentration on these three has the rest of the girls pressing me for dates. This is making my chums mad. It may keep me off the football team for one is captain. I feel like a rabbit on the run. Help!—No Adonis

Dear No: If you feel those determined females closing in on you, diplomatically arrange dates for them with your football team friends and thus appease everybody.

As for these extra special girls, continue to play the field. There's safety in numbers. Let them worry about which has the inside track. Look upon this as the period for developing your social relationships with others. It will give you a chance to test your behavior and values—both of which are mighty important in the making of character.

Dear Helen: This is a joint wall from a father and mother who suddenly have a couple of change-lings on our hand; a 13 year old daughter and 15-year-old son. The delightful children we knew are suddenly complete strangers who apparently live to defy us.

Why, when we love them so and have done our best to ground them in the fundamentals of right living? They treat us like a pair of pre-historic Dodos. What can we do?—At Wits' End.

Dear Wits' End: Dust off your sense of humor. Think back to the days when you were mixed-up teens. Remember that the process of growing up is painful for all concerned. Give your changelings all the understanding, compassion and love of which you are capable. They need it!

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "How to Get Along with an Adolescent."

Tears of Joy and Tears of Sorrow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were tears of joy and tears of sorrow. Prayers of thanks and even some misgiving. And through it all was the waiting.

That's how it was throughout the nation today as relatives of the 76 persons aboard a ditched Flying Tiger airliner received the news of how their next-of-kin had fared in the Atlantic crash off Ireland Sunday.

Robert Elander of Seattle Wash. whose son Maj. Carl R. Elander survived the crash heard that doctors were helping the injured. "That was the straw I kept hanging to," said the father.

In Fort Walton Beach Fla. the mother and three brothers of Pvt. Larry Neville stayed at home Monday waiting praying and hoping. Then a daughter in Pittsburgh got word from a radio station that Larry was saved. "That part of our waiting was over," said Larry's mother Mrs. Harold Neville. "We still don't know if he's hurt or anything but at least he's alive."

For Mrs. Ernest L. Wilson of New Orleans "it was such an awful strain" all day while awaiting news on the fate of her sergeant-husband. One of their daughters expecting a child was kept from the fact that her father was aboard the crashed airliner. Then came the moment of relief: He had lived to tell about it.

In Russellville Ark. too Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Thornsberry "waited for word all day." Then it came that their son Gordon an Army private was rescued.

"My wife and I believe something greater than human beings took part in this," said the elder Thornsberry. But the wait was not over. "I'd give anything to know how he's doing if he's injured," the father said.

A note of irony tinged the news that James E. Garrett Jr. flight engineer on the stricken plane perished. In South Norfolk Va. his father recalled that Garrett had gone to work only temporarily for the Flying Tiger line when he and other flight engineers for Eastern Air Lines went on strike.

Pine Bluff Plans Diner for Harris

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Democrats from the 28 counties of the 4th Congressional District will gather in Pine Bluff Oct. 6 for a rally and dinner at a motel restaurant.

Rep. Oren Harris, Democratic nominee for Congress in the district, will be principal speaker. One of the purposes of the affair is to permit Harris to meet key political figures in the 12 counties added to his district since the last election.

With Harris at the main table will be Sen. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright, Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Rep. Catherine Norrell and top Democratic Party officials.

Mrs. Norrell now represents the 12 counties in which Harris is running for the first time. She is seeking reelection.

Harris, Fulbright and Faubus have Republican opponents in the Nov. 6 general election. Staff Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, one of the promoters of the dinner, said about 500 tickets will be sold at $10 each.

Civil Defense Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A joint conference of the Arkansas Association of Civil Defense Directors and the Arkansas Women's Civil Defense Council will be held Thursday at Little Rock. About 150 persons are expected to attend. Principal speaker will be William C. Parker, director of the regional office of Civil Defense at Denton, Tex. He will speak on "The Problem of Survival."

Porkers in Lead Statistically

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Arkansas, one of the three winning teams in the Southwest Conference football opener, took the lead in offense with 431 yards in crushing Oklahoma State 34-7.

In fact, Arkansas was the only winner to boast a statistical superiority over the opposition. Texas Tech, which lost to West Texas State, 30-27, is second in team offense with 385 yards.

Baylor, 19-0 loser to University of Houston, was the No. 1 defensive team, giving up only 199 yards. Trouble was Baylor made only 172 yards itself.

Texas Tech leads in rushing with 208 yards while Arkansas tops in passing with 241. Southern Methodist completed the most passes—13 of 25—but Arkansas was the most accurate with 12 out of 19.

Tomato Harvest Nearly Complete

OZARK, Ark. (AP)—Farmers report the yield about normal as harvesting of the Franklin County tomato crop nears completion.

Acreage was smaller this year, and some of the recently harvested tomatoes had been damaged by excessive rain. Much of the crop was sold as shippers for markets in other states. The average price paid to growers was about $2 a bushel.

The tomatoes are grown in the mountain sections north of Ozark.

Democratic Clubs Day Saturday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Young Democrats will join in a statewide observance of Young Democrats Clubs Day Saturday. Gov. Orval E. Faubus has proclaimed the day Young Democrats Clubs Day.

Doctors Support for Fulbright

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Stanley Applegate of Springdale has announced formation of a committee of Arkansas doctors to support the re-election bid of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Applegate said the committee would send letters to all physicians in the state urging support of the senator. Fulbright is opposed by Dr. Kenneth Jones, of Little Rock, a Republican.

Applegate said other members of the committee include Dr. H. King Wade Sr., Hot Springs; O. J. T. Johnson of Batesville and Louis K. Hundley of Pine Bluff; Joe Norton, T. J. Roney and J. J. Monfort of Little Rock.

Kentucky Wins at Memphis Show

MEMPHIS (AP)—The University of Kentucky won the southern intercollegiate livestock judging contest at the Mid South Fair. The UK squad scored 4,507 of a possible 5,000 points.

Louisiana State placed second with 4,441 and Mississippi State was third with 4,416.

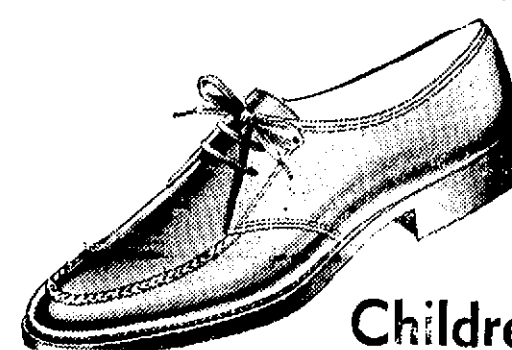

Other schools represented were West Texas State, Florida, Arkansas, McNeese State College, Illinois State Normal, Louisiana Polytechnic, Tennessee Martin Branch and Clemson.

Patterson, Liston Will Fight Tonight

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The richest fight in ring history, a $3-million electronic age spectacle, unleashes underdog heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson against surly challenger Charles (Sonny) Liston tonight for the world title.

In a Comiskey Park setting—merely a backdrop for a tremendous closed circuit television show worth upwards of $4 million—an outwitted Patterson may be taking on the toughest foe in his 41-bout pro career beginning at 9:30 p.m., EST.

Weather predictions were favorable. The forecast was for fair, cool climate with temperatures in the 40s.

Liston's long-established favoritism still held at 7-5. It was expected Patterson would scale around 190 pounds, spotting some 23 to Liston, likely to weigh around 213.

A crowd of around 35,000 was expected in the White Sox ball park, with prospects of a $750,000 gate.

The sponsoring Championship Sports, Inc., however, was keeping its eye mainly on returns from 24 closed circuit television outlets throughout the nation and Canada.

The sponsors predicted 800,000 of a potential 1,010,000 seats would be filled, assuring a gross of $4,000,000.

Radio, with ABC broadcasting the fight nationally, is pegged for about $400,000 receipts and another $200,000 is expected from movie rights.

All of this seems to assure the 27-year-old Patterson of ringdoms richest purse—perhaps $1,700,000—but the fight also may bring his dethroning by the bruising Liston, 28.

Liston, a powerful man—against both the law and ring opponents in the past—may lack the right-hand thunder of Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, who dethroned Patterson June 26, 1959, flooring the champ seven times.

But Liston, embittered by the many slurs against his prison record, will persistently stalk Patterson with perhaps the most jolting left jab since Joe Louis.

Patterson's great speed, flashy combinations and big heart—he has survived 12 knockdowns in his 38-2 record—have prompted many of the horde of attending scribes to pick him to whip the scowling Liston.

Liston has knocked out 23 while fashioning his 33-1 record. His only loss was an eight-round decision to Marly Marshall, whom he later twice defeated.

Society Demands Often Damaging

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A community demand for conformity from its young often furthers the problem of mental illness, a psychologist said Monday.

Dr. E. Philip Trapp, professor of psychology at the University of Arkansas, told delegates to the Arkansas Library Association Conference that this demand for conformity suppresses natural traits of curiosity, aggressiveness, skepticism and stamina which he called valuable resources in development on man's mental resources.

Trapp criticized "assembly-line education" in public schools.

"Skeptical students are viewed as rebels of whippersnappers and as a result they often become brainwashed adults or puppets," he said.

Youth Will Get 4th Operation

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Little Bill Bradley goes back to Houston Tex. today for another eye operation, Monday night the man who saved his life received a meritorious safety award.

Bill is the nine-year-old El Dorado youngster who was struck by lightning at a midjet league baseball tryout last April. He was blinded but three earlier operations have restored some of his sight.

Paul D. Power, an accountant for the Murph Corp., received the safety award which was presented by the American Petroleum Institute.

Power, one of the coaches supervising the tryout, gave Bill artificial respiration.

The API award was created for petroleum industry personnel who save lives by heroism or quick thinking.

To Appeal Ruling

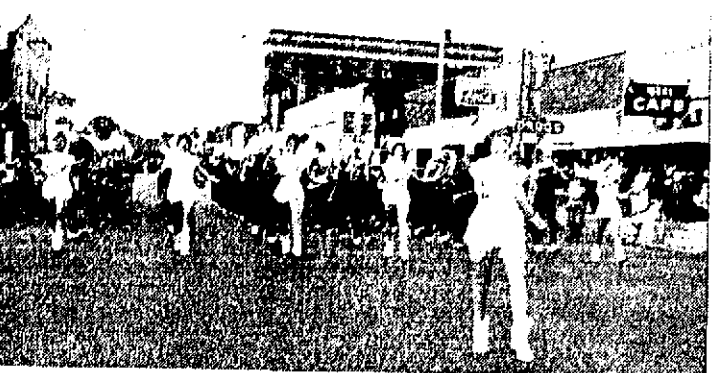

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney C. C. Mercer said Monday that he will appeal to the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals from a U.S. District Court order denying a writ of habeas corpus to Lonnie Mitchell, 26, an El Dorado Negro sentenced to die for raping a 77-year-old white woman. Deadline for filing the appeal is Oct. 1.

Education Board Asks $120 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said Monday that the $28.3 million biennial budget adopted by the state Board of Education Sunday was "the best possible argument" for initiated Act 1.

Act 1 to be voted on in the Nov. 6 election would guarantee a minimum of 50 per cent of state general revenues to the public school fund.

Rozzell said the amount guaranteed by Act 1 would be $4 to $5 million a year less than the Board of Education asked for. He said this was proof the act was not unrealistic or excessive.

The Board of Education has refused to endorse Act 1.

The proposed budget to be submitted to the 1963 Legislature asks for $3.9 million in fiscal 1962-64 and $64.4 million in fiscal 1964-65.

The budget includes $4 million a year for teacher salaries and $6 million the first year and $6.5 million the second for the Teacher Retirement System.

30,000 Take Polio Vaccine

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Only 3,000 persons—about half the number expected—took Type I Sabin oral polio vaccine Sunday in the first phase of a massive vaccination program in Miller and Bowie counties.

The Miller-Bowie Medical Society said the turnout was "good under the circumstances."

The circumstances included reports from Canada that at least four persons who took Type III Sabin contacted paralytic polio and the resulting postponement of a statewide vaccination program by the Arkansas Medical Society.

Type III Sabin will not be given in Miller and Bowie counties until it is approved by the U.S. surgeon general.

The Type I vaccine will be given in Miller and Bowie again next Sunday the medical society officials estimated another 3,000 persons will receive it.

Bobcats Meet Malvern Here Friday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big tough undefeated Conway and Jonesboro take on district foes in top Class AA games this week.

The Wampus Cats of Region 3AA will test Jacksonville a thus far unimpressive team. Jonesboro's Golden Hurricane takes on Newport in a Region 2AA battle.

Meanwhile Hope of Region 4AA meets Malvern and the game should be a good barometer of things to come in the region. Rogers goes against Fayetteville in Region 1AA.

Conway's Bill Hardin has been one of the big reasons for the Cats' unblemished record but he has had able support from Phil Carter Gary Nutter and a host of gritty defenders including John Voss.

Jacksonville is rebuilding after a big effort last season.

Jonesboro's football philosophy has been hard to beat. It's been: Win. The Hurricane is defending Region 2AA champion and is bearing down on the 1962 crown.

Newport's Greyhounds have been trouble but they haven't met a team like Jonesboro yet.

A good Region 3AA game pits Benton and Little Rock Catholic High at Little Rock. That one and the Conway game should make good watching for 3AA fans.

In other 3AA games Mabelvale journeys to Nashville to meet the single-wing Class A power. Searey meets Morrilton and Lonoke plays Sylvan Hills.

Other good Region 2AA games send Helena to Forrest City and Paragould to West Memphis. Wynne stunned by Parkin last week travels to Marianna and Stuttgart overwhelmed by Jonesboro plays DeWitt.

In Region 4AA Hope gets its first decent test in Malvern. Magnolia upstater last week of Crossett meets Smackover Haynesville La. comes to Fairview of Camden and Camden will play at Arkadelphia.

Rogers which walloped Berryville by 40 points last week welcomes Fayetteville to Rogers. A visit the Bulldogs may not enjoy Harrison goes to Russellville to see what Ronnie South can do and Van Buren and Springdale tangle at Springdale in 1AA battles.

Alabama Is Top Team in Nation

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama, national champion last year and a runaway winner in its 1962 opener Saturday, is back on top today in the first Associated Press poll of the college football season.

Bama took the No. 1 ranking away from Ohio State, the leader in the pre-season ratings but untested so far this fall. The Crimson Tide trailed in the first-place votes cast by AP's nationwide board of selectors, 19-14 but was more solidly supported otherwise and had a 342-298 edge in points.

Following Bama and Ohio State in the voting, in order, were Texas, Penn State, Louisiana State, Michigan State, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Southern California and Missouri. The first seven all made the pre-season listings.

Georgia Tech, Southern Cal and Missouri supplanted Purdue, Duke and Washington.

The top 10 teams—first-place votes in parentheses, points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

- Alabama (14) 328
- Ohio State (19) 342
- Texas (3) 261
- Penn State (3) 253
- Louisiana State 207
- Michigan State 160
- Mississippi (1) 123
- Georgia Tech 103
- Southern California 102
- Missouri 43

Poll Listings Before Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas supreme Court received Monday an appeal of a suit attacking validity of more than 400 listings in the Conway County poll tax book.

The suit was filed by the Conway County Better Government which asked that Sheriff and Collector Marlin Hawkins be ordered to prepare a correct list.

Chancellor Wiley Bean dismissed the suit June 11. He said he had no authority to require compiling a new list. Election judges had power to determine whether persons listed in the poll book were eligible to vote he said.

The Better Government League backed a slate of candidates against Hawkins and other incumbents county officials in the July 31 Democratic primary. The incumbents won handily.

Ford to Try to Carry Yanks in

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It'll be wily Whitey Ford on the mound tonight when the New York Yankees take on Washington in an attempt to clinch their 12th American League pennant in the last 14 years and set up the first coast-to-coast World Series in history.

Meanwhile, 3,000 miles away, the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers will go with relief specialist Ed Roebuck in a bold bid to increase their three-game edge over the second-place San Francisco Giants.

Ford, who has posted an impressive 1-8 record despite off-and-on arm trouble, will face the Senators' Benny Daniels (7-15). He can nail the Yankees' 27th pennant with a win no matter what second-place Minnesota does against Cleveland.

The Twins will start Camilo Pascual (19-10) in an effort to stay in the race should the Yankees' falter. Minnesota is 4½ games behind with four remaining to play. New York has five games left. Pascual will be opposed by Pedro Ramos (9-12).

Roebuck (10-0) was the surprise choice for the Dodgers as they prepared to tackle Houston and former teammate Dick Farrell (9-19) while trying to set up their first pennant since 1959.

The Dodgers lead the Giants by three with six games remaining for each contender. Any combination of four Los Angeles victories and San Francisco defeats will give the Dodgers the flag.

The Giants will be host to St. Louis, starting veteran Billy Pierce (14-6) against the Cardinals' Ernie Broglio (11-8).

Only one game was scheduled in either league Monday night. In that, Kansas City defeated Baltimore, 5-2.

The A's scored first in the 207th, getting three runs off Jack Fisher (7-9) on singles by Jose 123 Tartabull, Ed Charles and Normn 103 Siebern, a bases-loaded walk to 102 Johnny Wojcik and a wild pitch. Siebern scored Kansas City's second run in the sixth when he singled and eventually came across on a grounder, then closed out the scoring in the eighth with his 24th homer.

Says Lines Used Unlawfully

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. filed a petition Monday with the Public Service Commission saying it had learned that Ralph Hicks of Fort Smith has begun using Southwestern Bell's lines unlawfully and without permission.

The company asked that Hicks be stopped.

Hicks the operator of a mobile telephone service at Fort Smith asked the PSC March 11 for authority to pass his calls through Southwestern's lines.

Two scheduled public hearings during the summer were not held for various reasons and the PSC has not acted.

Looked Poor, Says Broyles of Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles took a rather odd view Monday of a 34-7 victory.

"We looked poor," Broyles said in discussing Saturday's romp over Oklahoma State at Little Rock.

The coach said study of films of the game revealed inadequate performances in blocking tackling and play execution.

"The defense looked especially bad," he said. "Only four or five of the more experienced boys earned decent grades." He said the Razorback passing attack (which got four touchdowns) looked good but he bemoaned the lack of a ground game.

Rain forced the Porks indoors Monday and they got only 50 minutes of work on shorts to iron out some of the kinks. Broyles plans a full-scale workout today if weather permits.

The Razorbacks also will hear a scouting report on their next opponent Tulsa from Coach Jack Davis. Tulsa invades Razorback Stadium Saturday.

Broyles warned the Porks Monday that the Golden Hurricane averages 219 pounds a man end to end.

Broyles announced that end Jim John who missed the OSU game also will sit out the Tulsa engagement with an injured nose.

In the realm of good news trainer Bill Ferrell said quarterback Billy Moore's cracked rib appears to have healed.

Moore injured shortly after fall practice started missed almost all contact work before the OSU game. And Broyles pulled him out as soon as the Razorbacks had a comfortable lead.

In so doing he may have found a long-sought replacement for the doughty little senior. Sophomore Bill Gray threw three touchdowns passes.
